

Acts 29 James

James, a disciple of Jesus Christ to my faithful epic discipleship brothers who co-labor with me with evidence and power. Grace and peace to you all not in a season of endings but of breakthrough beginnings in Christ Jesus.

I have been marked by Christ in my heart for an exciting calling and mission. I vow to fight for all who have given up fighting. To inspire them with wisdom through Holy Spirit revelation. I will be used by God to rescue and pull from the fire those lost, broken, and without hope. I will shepherd those who accept the invitation being a bridge that crosses them into deep healing and restoration.

I will persevere in the trials and triumphs giving God the glory for all His amazing grace and work through me.

I fully accept this invitation to love the Lord my God with all my heart, with all my soul, with all my mind, and with all my strength and love my neighbor as myself. It came to pass that I, James, a servant of the most high God fulfilled all the Lord instructed him to do. I can now with confidence examine my walk with the Lord and declare, I'm a new creation in Christ, Behold, the old is gone and the new has come.
