

Acts 29

In the city of Canton, there was a man named Marc, filled with the Holy Spirit and faith. Through him, Jesus was glorified. God healed the sick, spoke prophetically, restored broken marriages, reconciled families, and sparked hearts to pursue the Father.

He dedicated his life to being led by the Holy Spirit. He was known for being in the world, but not of the world. His spirit connected with old and young, impacting generations to come. Passionate about men walking in the fullness of all God had for their life and being awakened to the MORE of the Lord, he devoted his ministry efforts to men's ministry.

Marc's trade was financial services, which gave him a unique insight into what people treasured. Leading through humility, people were transparent of their plans, fears, & dreams. Prophetic words over their lives were common elements in the meetings. Encounters of sickness were opportunities to introduce Jehovah Rapha (healer) touching physical ailments while softening hearts for relationship with Jesus.

Dedication to leading men into deeper relationship with Jesus developed an army of warriors for the Kingdom. They were known as EPIC disciples. Men who were spiritually dead, became fully alive carrying the message of Jesus throughout the world. Salvations, addictions breaking, and transformations were common elements of these EPIC disciples.

Marc's family carried on His work for generations, thus "Live your Legacy" theme was fulfilled by all.
