

Acts 29 Asher

In the city of North Atlanta was a man named Asher. He was filled with the Holy Spirit. Because he decided to let the Holy Spirit lead him, he saw miracles take place at his job. He saw people healed from addictions, sickness, anxiety, and depression. The Spirit spoke through him and he saw the entire Walton High School basketball team claim salvation.

That team led their school into revival. Students were leaving drugs, alcohol, mental disorders, and many other things at the altar. Revival had officially started. His future wife and children went on spreading the Gospel in places he never imagined.

They preached a simple message: "Kingdom of God come."

And it Came!
